Summer term

What a lovely sunshine-filled week we have had in Preschool!

This week, we have started talking all about Summer and holidays. The children have been busy sharing their own holiday stories and even brought in photos from family breaks, which sparked wonderful conversations and lots of curiosity! We have explored where people go on holiday, what we might pack, and how we travel there — boats, planes, trains, and cars have all been part of our journeys. Thank you to the families who have already shared holiday photos with us. The children have loved seeing each other's special memories, and it has been a great way to build language skills and social connections. If you haven't sent one in yet, there's still time — we would love to include as many as possible!

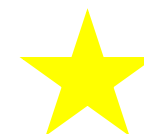

This week we welcomed some of our soon to be Preschool children into class for their first Stay & Play sessions. We are so proud of how warmly and kindly the children welcomed them — helping, sharing toys, and showing them around. It's a true reflection of the caring and inclusive environment we strive for every day. Well done, Preschool!

Happy weekend! The Pre-School Team 😊
